

Anthony D. Currie, Jr.: A Journey of Leadership and Community Impact

Born and bred in the vibrant city of Chicago, Illinois, Anthony D. Currie, Jr. was destined to become a force for positive change. His journey began at Northern Illinois University, where he delved into Organizational Communication, igniting a passion for understanding human dynamics and fostering connections. Throughout his academic tenure, Anthony didn't just study; he immersed himself in campus life, serving as a beacon of inspiration within student government, the esteemed Black Student Union, and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc.

Upon graduation, Anthony embarked on a career path aimed at empowering others to realize their educational dreams. Joining Kaplan University, a pioneering force in online post-secondary education, he became a guiding light for working adults seeking to juggle the demands of work, family, and personal growth. Anthony's role wasn't just about recruitment; it was about mentoring, advising, and championing individuals on their educational journey.

In 2007, the winds of change led Anthony to the sun-kissed landscapes of Phoenix, Arizona. Here, he continued to carve his niche in the realm of post-secondary education, augmenting his skill set with a deep dive into Business studies. With stints at prestigious institutions like DeVry University and the Art Institute, Anthony solidified his reputation as a dynamic recruiter with a heart for student success.

However, Anthony's trajectory was not confined to the realm of academia. In Phoenix, he discovered a new passion: learning and development. Transitioning seamlessly into the role of Corporate and Leadership Trainer, Anthony found his calling in shaping the leaders of tomorrow. His tenure at Freedom Financial Network, the nation's premier debt relief company, saw him imparting invaluable wisdom and expertise to aspiring leaders, all while honing his own craft through certifications in renowned training programs like the 7 Habits of Highly Effective People and Situational Leadership.

But Anthony's impact extended far beyond the boardrooms and classrooms. Ever the visionary, he founded The Toe Stoppas, LLC, and Rink Outside the Box, a non-profit organization dedicated to leveraging the power of roller skating to foster physical fitness, social cohesion, and educational enrichment within the community. Through these endeavors, Anthony exemplified his unwavering commitment to holistic growth and community empowerment.

A voracious reader with an insatiable appetite for knowledge, Anthony's interests spanned the realms of business, leadership, and social science. Yet, amidst his professional pursuits, he remained grounded in his most cherished role: that of a devoted husband and father to three beautiful children.

From the bustling streets of Chicago to the sun-drenched vistas of Phoenix, Anthony D. Currie, Jr. has journeyed far and wide, leaving an indelible mark on every life he touches. With each endeavor, he continues to embody the ethos of leadership, resilience, and service, inspiring others to dream boldly and live passionately.
